

Riding the Wave of Enthusiasm
after the Symposium:
How to Maintain Your IAQ Momentum

February 9, 2005

Tracy Washington Enger

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Indoor Environments Division
enger.tracy@epa.gov
(202) 343-9584

Welcome and Introductions

Agenda

- Presentations
 - Jim Foxx, Cypress-Fairbanks ISD
 - Jack Levine, North Haven Public Schools
 - Jeff Moquin, Broward County Public Schools
- General Question & Answer Period
- Closing Remarks

Jim Foxx

Director of Operations
IAQ Coordinator
Cypress-Fairbanks ISD
Houston, Texas
E-mail: james.foxx@cfisd.net
(281) 897-4195

School Experience

Director of Operations for 15 years

Responsible for:

- 9,464,367 Square Feet
- 575 Custodial Employees
- Indoor Air Quality Coordinator
- Aquatic Safety Program Coordinator

IAQ Experience

- Member of IAQ Response Team for 5 years
 - IAQ Coordinator for 4 years
 - Member EPA IAQ Tools for Schools National Mentor Network
 - Winner EPA IAQ Tools for Schools Leadership Award 2003
 - Winner EPA IAQ Tools for Schools Excellence Award 2004
-

Cypress-Fairbanks ISD

- Enrollment ~79,800
 - 7 High schools
 - 8 under construction
 - 12 Middle Schools
 - 2 under construction
 - 40 Elementary Schools
 - 2 under construction
-

How Symposium Motivated IAQ Management

Attended first Symposium 2002

Upon Returning

- Sent brief memo about the importance of IAQ to Associate Superintendent
 - Delivered in-service presentations about IAQ to principals, secretaries, and primary and secondary school nurses
-

How Symposium Motivated IAQ Management

Attended Symposium 2004

Upon Returning

- Information gathered provided greater insight to comprehensive IAQ management program and validated current IAQ program for the District

Jack Levine

Director of Business and Operations

IAQ District Coordinator

North Haven Public Schools

North Haven, Connecticut

E-mail: levine.jack@north-haven.k12.ct.us

(203) 239-2581

School Experience

Director of Business and Operations for 11 years

Responsible for:

- 6 school buildings
- 567,195 square feet
- 23 maintenance and custodial employees
- IAQ Coordinator

IAQ Experience

- IAQ Coordinator since inception of program in 2002
- Member EPA IAQ Tools for Schools National Mentor Network
- Winner EPA IAQ Tools for Schools Excellence Award 2004

North Haven Public Schools

- Enrollment 3,800
- 6 school buildings
- 300 total instructional staff
- 170 total support staff
- Total budget (2004-2005) $36.4 million

How Symposium Motivated IAQ Management

Highlights and Benefits of 2004 Symposium

- Student participation can be beneficial
- Learned from other school districts
- Pride in North Haven's accomplishments
- Top level support is critical

How Symposium Motivated IAQ Management

Upon Returning from Symposium

- Shared experience with IAQ school and district teams
- Shared credit for Excellence Award with teams

Jeff Moquin

Risk Management
Broward County Public Schools
Fort Lauderdale, Florida

E-mail:
jeffrey.moquin@browardschools.com
(754) 321-3200

School Experience

Administrator on the business side for 12 years
Director of the Risk Management Department for the past 5 years

Responsible for:

- Procurement of all District property/casualty insurances
- Managing the District's $100 million self-insurance program
- Managing 5,500 General Liability and Workers' Compensation claims annually
- Primary member of the District's indoor air quality program team

IAQ Experience

- Involved in the District's IAQ issues for 7 years
- Member of IAQ Response Team for 3 years
- Conducted more than 200 IAQ assessments in conjunction with Certified Industrial Hygiene consultants
- EPA Leadership Award 2004

Broward County Public Schools

- Enrollment 274,000
- 251 Total schools
- Total instructional staff: ~17,000
- Total support staff: ~13,000
- Total Budget (2004-2005): $4.14 Billion

How Symposium Motivated IAQ Management

Key Motivations from 2004 Symposium

- Develop Strategic IAQ Management Plan with 3 key elements
 - Student participation is essential and valuable
 - Communication is key
 - Documenting procedures is important

Summary

- Apply for appropriate recognition award and publicize it
- Use experience and information to validate actions taken to date and to promote future work
- Publicize current accomplishments
- Continue work to improve your IAQ program and process; use the Symposium for ideas and motivation
- Challenges are the same everywhere
- Share the glory
- Communicate broadly

Questions and Answers

Closing Remarks

E-mail additional questions to IAQTraining@cadmusgroup.com

Next Web Seminar
– Proposed for May