Brief Background

The climate is changing at an increasingly rapid rate.

Climate Change MITIGATION

What is it? Efforts to slow the rate of change, including reducing GHG emissions.

Why is it important? Reduce the magnitude of the future impacts of climate change.

What does it look like? Energy efficiency, renewable energy, materials management, community design, transportation, etc.

Climate Change ADAPTATION

What is it? Efforts to moderate harm and/or capitalize on opportunities presented by actual or expected changes in climate.

Why is it important? The past is no longer a good predictor of the future. To improve the success of our investments, future conditions should be considered.

What does it look like? Adjusting building and development practices, transportation infrastructure, stormwater systems, energy systems, health programs, natural resource management, agricultural practices, emergency services, food security, etc.
Example Adaptation Planning Process

1. Build and maintain support to prepare for climate change
2. Scope projected climate impacts on programs and planning areas
3. Assess vulnerability and risk
4. Set preparedness goals and actions
5. Implement your plan and evaluate effectiveness

Appendix of Resources & Contact Information
Helping state and local governments reduce GHGs

- We use co-benefits strategies to achieve GHG and policy goals
  - Environmental, energy, economic, health benefits
  - Example: EE/RE/CHP can lower costs to comply with air standards
- We foster inter-agency collaboration
  - States – air offices, energy offices, PUCs
  - Locals – planning, environmental services, energy and many other related departments
- We help state and local governments make the case for action
  - Best practice-based policy approaches
  - Analytical tools and information
  - Communications resources including peer exchanges, lessons learned
- All our resources are available at: www.epa.gov/statelocalclimate
