EPA is working to improve its website and the efficiency of managing web content. The new site is more user-friendly, and can be used across different devices (mobile, tablet, desktop) more easily.

Some differences you may notice on the new LMOP website:

- Newly designed home page with links to the information and resources of most interest to website visitors.
- Expanded array of links to publications, tools and resources related to the waste sector.
- Reorganization of LMOP data Excel files to help visitors more easily find data.

LMOP is interested in learning about your experiences with and impressions of the new website, and is also available to answer your questions. Please send any feedback or questions about the new site to lmop@epa.gov.

Thank you,
